

What are the stakeholders that have interests and needs in intercultural learning and mobility? What are their motivations?

Stakeholders	Motivations
High School Teachers, Teachers' Associations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● To develop new professional and pedagogical skills</li> <li>● To develop contacts with other schools and colleagues</li> <li>● To prepare and accompany students' mobility to empower all students</li> <li>● To support foreign students in their class</li> <li>● To include intercultural competencies and global citizenship in their class</li> </ul>
High School Staff in general (school heads, educators, counsellors etc.), Head School Associations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● To value cultural diversity at school</li> <li>● To develop global citizenship at school (political commitment)</li> <li>● To develop an added value and a good image of their school</li> </ul>
Students: on a mobility programme (sending and hosting), migrants	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● To develop intercultural competencies</li> <li>● To develop personal skills (curiosity to "cultural others", autonomy etc.)</li> <li>● To improve language skills</li> <li>● To develop more skills to value in their resume</li> </ul>
Families, Parents' Associations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● To develop well being of students</li> <li>● To develop skills valuable in the workplace</li> </ul>
Organisations promoting mobility and intercultural learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● To develop intercultural learning in the society</li> <li>● To support intercultural learning of students</li> </ul>
Government, National Education Ministries, Initial Training Schools for Teachers, Teachers' Lifelong Learning Training Institutions, Officer in charge of International Relations for Schools	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● To value cultural diversity at school</li> <li>● To develop global citizenship at school (political commitment)</li> <li>● To develop cultural radiance of their country</li> <li>● To develop skills valuable in the workplace with economic benefits for the society</li> </ul>

Foundations, financial partners

- To support innovative initiatives for intercultural dialogue that suit their mission
- To develop a good image of their organisations